Isaac Cohen was one of the first men to deal in junk; coming to Concord from Boston in 1903.

He would leave Concord Monday morning with a horse and wagon for outlying towns returning Friday night for the weekend.

This mode of business continued until 1919 when he purchased a Model T truck.

In 1946 the business, was taken over by his son Edward and has prospered and grown to be known as " E. COHEN STEEL CO."

In 1953 new and used steel and pipe was added: new warehouses and office built.

It has also become quite a gathering place for Shriners and croonies.
