Concord Road Load Limits Lifting Monday, April 7

CONCORD, NH — Spring road load limits for the City of Concord will be lifted on Monday, April 7, 2025. Seasonal weight restrictions of 9 tons were posted on March 10 to protect roads from heavy vehicles during the spring thaw.

Weight restrictions are being lifted now that snow has melted and ditches have dried up any standing water. Consistent warmer temperatures have allowed roads to have time to dry out and stabilize.

Starting Monday, Concord General Services will remove all load limit signs throughout the city. Travel permissions will no longer be required for commercial truckers and drivers of heavy construction vehicles.
